ABSTRACT

This report presents data for spring 1977 from the household portion of the Nationwide Food Consumption survey in the Northeast conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture during April 1977 through March 1978. Statistics are presented on food consumption by consumers with incomes ranging from under $5,000 through $20,000 and over. Information is provided on consumer buying patterns of various food groups, e.g., meats, vegetables, fruits, etc. Patterns of consumption are also recorded according to demographic factors. Food consumption comparisons are presented between the 1965 survey and the 1977 survey. (JD)

Although data collection in the Nationwide Food Consumption Survey 1977-78 was completed in March 1978, this is the only source of national information on household consumption of food, by quantity and money value, since the last survey was conducted in 1965-66. The results are still valid and may be used in coming years in the evaluation of many issues including food consumption and nutrition education.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Nationwide Food Consumption Survey 1977-78 was conducted by the Consumer Nutrition Center, Human Nutrition Information Service (formerly Human Nutrition, Science and Education Administration), U.S. Department of Agriculture. The sample was designed and the data were collected and processed by National Analysts, Inc., under contract with the Center. The data for this publication were tabulated by the Federal Prison Industries, U.S. Department of Justice, also under contract with the Center.

Work on the survey and publication was the concern of many individuals in the Consumer Nutrition Center. Robert B. Reese had overall responsibility for planning and supervising the survey. Mary Y. Hama supervised a team composed of Dorothy A. Baker, Helen C. Crutchfield, Kim M. Hatfield, Linda W. Ingwersen, Lorraine R. McCullen, and Constance D. Ward that developed plans for coding and tabulating the collected household food consumption data, analyzed findings, and wrote this report. Bruce C. Gray, Jan L. Janiczek, and Mills B. Weinstein monitored the data processing and tabulation performed by the contractor. Betty B. Peterkin, Frank N. Hepburn, and the Nutrient Data Research Group provided assistance at different phases of the survey planning and analysis. Ellen W. Caswell and Mildred T. Pati provided assistance in matters relating to word processing. Johna L. Pierce provided editorial and production assistance.

During the planning of the survey, special attention was given to the needs of potential users, particularly the Economic Research Service and Food and Nutrition Service of USDA, Food and Drug Administration and Social Security Administration of the Department of Health and Human Services, and other Federal agencies.

HIGHLIGHTS

The money value of food used by housekeeping households in the Northeast averaged $69 in a week during the spring of 1977. Of this amount, three-fourths ($51) was the value of food used at home and one-fourth ($18) was the expense for meals and snacks eaten away from home. Most of the food used at home was bought, except for $2 worth received without direct expense. Meals eaten away from home accounted for $14 and snacks for $3.

The average household size was 2.73 in terms of 21-meal-at-home-equivalent persons (See "Definitions and Explanations"). The average money value of food per person in a week was as follows:

|---|---|
| All food | $25.17 |
| Money value of food used at home | 18.71 |
| Bought | 18.05 |
| Received without direct expense (home-produced and/or received as gift or pay) | .66 |
| Expense for meals and snacks eaten away from home | 6.46 |

These figures include the money value of alcoholic beverages and all items commonly thought of as food. They do not include cigarettes, soaps, and other nonfood items purchased in grocery stores. Food received without direct expense was valued at the average price per pound paid for comparable food by survey households in the same region.

All households used some bought food for home consumption during the survey week. Home-produced food was used by 19 percent of the households and food received as gift or pay was used by 38 percent.

Meals or between-meal snacks bought in restaurants and other eating establishments during the week were reported by 80 percent of the households. At least one household member in 45 percent of the households had one or more meals without direct expense, such as guests' meals or those in payment for work.

Averages conceal the great variation among households. For example, the average money value of food used at home in a week by households in the Northeast was $18.71 per person. But for 15 percent of the households, the value of a week's food was less than $12 per person and for 21 percent, $25 or more.

Households allocated the largest share of their home food dollar, 37 cents, to meat, poultry, fish, and eggs. The next largest share, 19 cents, went for vegetables and fruit, including juices. About 12 cents out of each dollar went for milk and milk products other than butter; 11 cents for flour, cereals, and bakery products; another 11 cents for beverages such as coffee, tea, soft drinks, punches, ades, beverage powders, and alcoholic beverages; and 6 cents was divided evenly between fats and sweets. The remaining 4 cents was used for other foods.

The average consumption of food at home per person per day (as brought into the household) was as follows: 2-1/3 cups of milk or its equivalent in milk products (in terms of calcium content); 1-1/2 ounces of fats, oils, and salad dressings; 2-1/2 ounces of flour and cereal products; almost 2-1/2 slices of bread; and about 2-1/4 ounces of other bakery products. The per-person average also included 11-1/3 ounces of meat, poultry, and fish; about one small egg; almost 2 ounces of sugar and other sweets; 2-2/3 ounces of potatoes and sweetpotatoes; 1-1/4 pounds of vegetables and fruit, including juices; plus varying amounts of beverages, nuts, soup, mixtures, and condiments.

Differences by Region[1]

In the spring of 1977, both the average money value of food used at home and the expense for food eaten away from home per household were highest in the Northeast and lowest in the South. The money value of home food differed by $6.82 in a week between these two regions. Values for all four regions were as follows:

| Item | Per household in a week | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Northeast | North Central | South | West |
| | Dollars | | | |
| Money value of all food........... | 68.61 | 59.52 | 56.25 | 60.29 |
| Money value of food used at home | 51.00 | 45.32 | 44.18 | 45.56 |
| Bought........................ | 49.21 | 42.06 | 40.03 | 42.68 |
| Home-produced................. | .74 | 2.29 | 2.72 | 1.30 |
| Expense for food away from home. | 17.61 | 14.19 | 12.07 | 14.73 |
| Household size (21 meals at home = 1 person)...................... | (2.73) | (2.80) | (2.80) | (2.79) |

The average expense for eating out in a week was $5.54 higher per household in the Northeast than in the South. About 80 percent of the households in each region except the South (71 percent) bought and ate some food away from home.

Household size in each region was similar, averaging about 2.8 persons, except in the Northeast (2.73 persons). Values per person for home food varied from $18.71 in the Northeast to $15.80 in the South, a difference of $2.91.

Consumption of food at home per person also differed by region. Households in the South reported greater use of fats and oils, flour and cereal, eggs, sugar and sweets, and vegetables other than potatoes. At the same time, their overall use of milk and milk products, fruit and fruit juice, soup, and nuts was somewhat lower than that found in the other regions.

Not only was there regional variation in the use of major food groups but also in the use of particular foods within these groups. Traditional food consumption patterns in the South persisted despite sizable population gains over the past decade as a result of migration from other regions. For example, households in the South used markedly larger quantities of self-rising flour, cornmeal, hominy grits, buttermilk, evaporated milk, lard, sweetpotatoes, dark-green leafy vegetables, and dried peas and beans--foods generally associated with Southern food habits.

| Food group | Per person in a week | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Northeast | North Central | South | West |
| | Pounds | | | |
| Milk, cream, cheese (calcium equivalent) | 8.68 | 8.90 | 7.37 | 9.32 |
| Fats, oils | .68 | .68 | .77 | .67 |
| Flour, cereal | 1.13 | 1.13 | 1.51 | 1.16 |
| Bakery products | 1.90 | 1.86 | 1.78 | 1.82 |
| Meat, poultry, fish | 4.96 | 4.88 | 5.06 | 4.34 |
| Eggs | .59 | .67 | .74 | .67 |
| Sugar, sweets | .81 | .91 | 1.11 | .82 |
| Potatoes, sweetpotatoes | 1.15 | 1.51 | 1.32 | 1.12 |
| Other vegetables, including juice | 3.68 | 3.39 | 4.15 | 3.82 |
| Fruit, including juice | 4.43 | 3.76 | 3.59 | 4.42 |
| Beverages | 3.91 | 4.20 | 3.32 | 3.27 |
| Soup | .28 | .28 | .25 | .30 |
| Nuts, peanut butter, condiments | .38 | .37 | .30 | .39 |
| Other mixtures | .26 | .25 | .24 | .24 |

Foods used in appreciably larger amounts in certain regions than in others (20 percent or more than the average for the United States as a whole and 15 percent more than that used by at least two other regions) were as follows:

| Northeast.......... | Fluid whole milk, fluid skim milk, yogurt, butter, salad and cooking oil, rice, pasta, veal, lamb, turkey, canned tunafish, shellfish, fresh and commercially frozen fruit juice, tea, fruit ades, punches, drinks. |
| North Central...... | Fluid lowfat milk, cottage cheese, salad dressing other than mayonnaise, potato chips, fruit ades, punches, drinks. |
| West............... | Fluid lowfat milk, dry nonfat and lowfat milk, cream, hot breakfast cereal, bread other than white (including whole wheat), lamb, variety meat, honey, fresh deep-yellow vegetables, lettuce, citrus fruit, nuts. |

Differences by Urbanization

Suburban households in each region had food at home with a higher money value than did households in the other urbanizations. In the Northeast, the money value of food used at home was $56.18 for households in the suburbs, $47.47 in central cities, and $46.33 in nonmetropolitan areas. On a per-person basis, suburban households also had food worth more than households in other urbanizations.

In terms of money value, home-produced food accounted for 1 percent of home food used in the Northeast. The value of home-produced food was more for nonmetropolitan households, 3 percent, than for central city and suburban households. Nonmetropolitan households in the North Central, however, led all other regions in the use of home-produced food.

The average expense for food away from home in the Northeast ranged from $20.46 in the suburbs to $15.00 in the nonmetropolitan areas, a difference of $5.46. The greatest urbanizational difference among the regions was between suburban and nonmetropolitan households in the South. Suburban households spent nearly $8 more on food away from home than did nonmetropolitan households; in contrast, this difference was only $2 in the West.

Quantities of food used per person in a week reflect further differences by urbanization. In the Northeast, central city households used 5.4 pounds of meat, poultry, and fish compared with 5.0 pounds by suburban households, and 4.2 pounds by nonmetropolitan households. Further breakdown of this food group, however, showed that households in suburban areas consumed the most beef. Central city households also used more cream, salad oils, poultry, fish, eggs, fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, commercially canned vegetables, and juices than those in suburban and nonmetropolitan areas. On the other hand, suburban households used larger quantities of skim milk, evaporated milk, butter, bakery products other than bread, commercially canned fruit, and beverages than households in the other urbanizations. Nonmetropolitan households consumed 8.9 pounds of milk and milk products (calcium equivalent), which was about the same amount used by suburban households but 0.63 pounds or about 1 cup more milk than central city households. Nonmetropolitan households also used larger quantities of flour; prepared mixes; breakfast cereals; shellfish; sirup, molasses, and honey; dried fruit; alcoholic beverages; and nuts, leavenings, and condiments.

Differences by Income

Average 1976 income before taxes reported by households was $15,941 in the North Central, $15,412 in the West, $15,143 in the Northeast, and $12,225 in the South. Regardless of region, households at successively higher income levels were larger and used food at home with a higher money value. Households with incomes of $20,000 and over in each region except the West used food at home worth twice as much as households with incomes under $5,000. In the Northeast, the value of food at home amounted to $63.92 for households with incomes of $20,000 and over (high income), $47.63 for $10,000-$14,999 (middle income), and $32.68 for those under $5,000 (low income).

Home-produced food in the Northeast was used mostly by high- and middle-income households. About 19 percent of each of these groups reported using food produced at home while 11 percent of the low-income households reported using food from this source. For each of these income groups, however, home-produced food accounted for only 1 percent of the total money value of food used at home.

As expected, the expense for food away from home increased with income in all regions. Households with incomes of $20,000 and over spent 5 to 6 times as much for food away from home as households with incomes under $5,000, except in the West, where 3-1/2 times as much was spent. In the Northeast, 95 percent of the high-income households, compared with 48 percent of the low-income households, reported expense for food away from home.

Compared with low-income households, high-income households in all regions generally used more milk and milk products; bakery products; meat; fresh vegetables; fresh fruit; beverages; and nuts, condiments, and leavenings per person. On the other hand, low-income households used more flour and cereal, eggs, commercially canned vegetables, and dried vegetables and fruit.

Specific foods used in larger quantities per person by high- than low-income households in the Northeast were butter, salad dressing, beef, potato chips and sticks, juices, and coffee. Low-income households consumed more shortening, salad oils, bread, lunch meat, fish, shellfish, fresh white potatoes, fresh dark-green leafy vegetables, and soup.

Food Consumption Comparison between 1965 and 1977 Surveys

The average money value of food used at home per person increased between 1965 and 1977--by 75 percent in the West, 87 percent in the North Central, 92 percent in the Northeast, and 99 percent in the South. The expense for food away from home ranged from an increase of 153 percent in the West to 198 percent in the North Central. During the same period, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) measured increases in prices for food at home of approximately 100 percent and for food away from home of 120 percent. The difference in the money value between the two periods apparently reflected the rise in food prices and changes in the kinds and the amounts of foods used by households.

In the Northeast, the share of the household food dollar allocated to food away from home was 18 percent in 1965 and 26 percent in 1977, an increase of 8 percentage points. Shares increased 8 percentage points in the North Central, 6 percentage points in the West, and 4 percentage points in the South.

Average household size in 21-meal-at-home-equivalent persons declined in all four regions between the two survey periods because of fewer household members and smaller proportions of meals consumed at home. In the Northeast, household size decreased from 3.28 persons in 1965 to 2.73 persons in 1977. To help adjust for household size differences between 1965 and 1977, consumption comparisons are based on quantities of food used per person in households.

Shifts occurred in quantities of various types of food used per person by households between 1965 and 1977. In all four regions, changes for most of the major food groups were generally in the same direction, although not always to the same extent.

Consumption of milk and milk products (calcium equivalent) per person changed slightly between the two surveys. The West was the only region with a higher consumption of this food group in 1977 than in 1965, a 3-percent increase. Consumption of milk and milk products decreased 1 percent in the North Central, 5 percent in the Northeast, and 8 percent in the South. Within this food group, the use of fluid skim and lowfat milk increased dramatically in all regions--from 252 percent in the West to 437 percent in the North Central. Increases were principally in the use of lowfat milk. Whole milk consumption at the same time decreased from 12 percent in the South to 48 percent in the North Central.

The downward trend in the use of fats and oils evident in the 1965 survey continued into the next decade. The quantity declined from 8 percent in the Northeast to 18 percent in the South. Within this food group, substantial decreases in the use of butter and shortening were accompanied by increases in salad dressing.

The use of bakery products, including bread, dropped 26 percent in the Northeast and about 20 percent in the other regions. Along with this trend, the use of the flour and cereal group decreased 6 percent in the North Central, 11 percent in the West, and 22 percent in the South. The Northeast was the only region with higher consumption in 1977 than in 1965, an increase of 5 percent. All regions experienced a notable increase in the use of cold breakfast cereal.

Use of meat in the Northeast and North Central remained about the same in 1977 as in 1965, but rose 15 percent in the South and fell 5 percent in the West. The gain in the South was attributed to the greater use of beef. The amount of poultry used increased 23 percent in the Northeast but decreased 9 percent in the West. Greater fish consumption occurred in both the North Central and Northeast between the two survey periods, but remained at the 1965 level in the other regions. Use of eggs decreased about 20 percent in every region. The combined consumption of meat, poultry, fish, and eggs decreased 8 percent in the West but increased in the other regions.

Consumption of sugar and sweets dropped about 25 percent in each region. This is consistent with the decrease of other ingredients used in home baking such as eggs, flour, and fats.

Fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, and juice increased in use from 1965 to 1977 in each region, whereas the use of dried and commercially canned vegetables and fruit decreased. Consumption of fresh vegetables other than potatoes increased from 5 percent in the North Central to 13 percent in the Northeast and South. Usage of fresh white potatoes declined 36 percent in the Northeast, which was greater than that in the other regions. Quantities of fresh fruit increased 17 percent in the West, 8 percent in the South, 6 percent in the North Central, and 3 percent in the Northeast. At the same time, use of commercially canned fruit decreased substantially from 31 percent in the South to 51 percent in the West. Large gains were made in the use of frozen fruit juice in all four regions and of fresh fruit juice in every region except the North Central.

The increase in beverages ranged from 18 percent in the Northeast to 43 percent in the North Central, reflecting the continuing popularity of soft drinks, fruit ades, drinks, and punches. Alcoholic beverages underwent a marked upswing in quantity consumed--about 25 percent in the Northeast and West, 55 percent in the South, and 60 percent in the North Central. This may be both because of the growing use of alcoholic beverages (wine in the Northeast) and the respondents' greater candidness in revealing alcohol consumption. In contrast, coffee consumption fell in each region principally because of less use of ground coffee in 1977 than in 1965. Use of instant coffee increased in the South and West but not enough to offset the decline in the use of ground coffee.

Percentage changes since 1965 for selected food items that shifted in the same direction for every region were as follows:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Northeast | North Central | South | West |
| | Increases | | | |

INTRODUCTION

This report presents data for spring 1977 from the household portion of the Nationwide Food Consumption Survey 1977-78 (NFCS) conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) during April 1977 through March 1978. The study is part of USDA's continuing research program on human food and nutrition that was started at the turn of the century. Through the years, the Department has contributed much to the knowledge of American food habits by collecting information about the kinds and quantities of food people eat as well as the money value of that food. Dietary levels of different groups within the population are also determined from calculated estimates of the nutrient content of the food reported and recommended nutrient levels. Objectives of the USDA food consumption surveys have been expanded to serve new and diverse needs for information relating to consumers and the food they eat.

- Congress, the Department of Agriculture, and other Federal agencies use these data to develop and administer public programs and policies that relate to production, marketing, and consumption of food.
- Research and development laboratories, food manufacturers, and food industries use these data to adjust the producing, processing, and marketing of food closer to the needs and wants of consumers.
- Nutritionists, home economists, educators, and welfare workers use these data to assess the current nutritive value of diets of the population and to develop guidelines and programs for improving dietary levels in the United States.

Thus, the nationwide food consumption surveys are benchmarks to measure the current status of the U.S. diet and the changes that have occurred since the previous survey. Data provided by the recent survey may be used in evaluating public policies and economic, social, educational, and regulatory programs associated with people and the foods they eat.

The early fledgling studies were small-scale, intensive investigations and sometimes involved only a few respondents. Since the 1930's, however, the Department has conducted six food consumption surveys on a national scale: 1936, 1942, 1948 (urban only), 1955, 1965-66, and 1977-78. Only the 1965-66 and 1977-78 surveys included all four seasons of the year and provided information on diets of selected individuals within the household as well as on food consumption of the total household.

In the NFCS 1977-78, a stratified probability sample of households was surveyed from April 1977 through March 1978. Households were selected to represent the universe of households in each of four Census regions and three urbanizations during each of the four seasons. The information was collected from about 15,000 households in the 48 conterminous States and about 34,000 individuals from these households. In addition, 5 supplemental surveys yielded information for about 5,000 households in which at least 1 member was older than 64 years of age, about 4,700 households with members participating or eligible to participate in the Food Stamp Program, 3,100 households in Puerto Rico, 1,100 urban households in Alaska, and 1,250 households in Hawaii. All of these supplemental surveys provide data on household food consumption and individual food intake.

The data on food used in a surveyed household were collected in an interview with the person identified as most responsible for food planning and preparation. Trained interviewers, who used an aided-recall questionnaire, recorded the kind (such as ground beef and skim milk), the form (such as fresh, commercially canned, or frozen), the quantity, and the cost, if purchased, of each food or beverage used in the household during the 7 days before to the interview. Respondents also gave information on home food production and preservation, the number of meals eaten at home and away by household members, and meals and snacks eaten by guests. For use in classification, respondents provided other data, such as income, participation in food programs, age, education, and employment of the male and female head of household.

The methodology used to obtain household food consumption in the NFCS 1977-78 was the same as that used in the 1965-66 survey with few exceptions. In 1965-66, the households were interviewed at the initial contact, but in 1977-78, households were contacted at least 7 days prior to the interview and asked to keep grocery receipts, shopping lists, menus, package labels, or other aids to help them recall the food used in the 7-day period. Both surveys measure food consumption at the level at which the foods come into the kitchen. Thus, the data should be interpreted as consumption in an economic rather than a physiological context.

TABLE NOTES

The following notes are for tables 2-24. They provide the type of information usually found at the end of individual tables. "General Notes" contain information and explanations applicable to all or most tables. "Specific Notes" refer to a particular table, group of columns, or single column of a table.

General Notes

1. Average quantity and money value per household and percentage of households are based on all households in the cell. See table 1 for cell counts.

2. Component items may not cross-add to totals because of rounding.

3. The asterisk (*) indicates some but less than 0.005 pound, 0.005 dollar, or 0.05 percent.

4. See table 3 for food group totals for tables 4-22.

5. Homemade mixtures on hand at the beginning of the 7-day period if used during the survey week are included in prepared form rather than as ingredients. Data for all other foods are as they were brought into the kitchen. See "Definitions and Explanations," Food at Home.

6. Food from Meals on Wheels and similar programs that provide food in the home are included in tables 3-22.

7. Commercially canned food includes baby food. See table 23 for separate data on baby food.

8. Food substitutes are included in the group of foods they replace.

9. Lists of foods in the "Specific Notes" are not necessarily all-inclusive.

10. Mention of a trade name does not constitute an endorsement of the product by the U.S. Department of Agriculture over other products not mentioned.

COMPARISON WITH 1965-66 HOUSEHOLD FOOD CONSUMPTION SURVEY

Although methods used in the Nationwide Food Consumption Survey 1977-78 were generally the same as those used in the 1965-66 Household Food Consumption Survey, some changes were made that might affect comparability:

--Households received advance notice of the interview for the 1977-78 survey and were asked to keep notes on food used for the 7-day period preceding the interview. In 1965-66, households were interviewed at the time of initial contact.

--Households were offered a nonmonetary incentive for participating in the 1977-78 survey. None was offered in the earlier survey.

--In 1977-78, data were collected from all households. In the earlier survey, data were collected from "housekeeping" households only (households in which 1 person had 10 or more meals at home). Data in this report are for "housekeeping" households only.

--In 1977-78, households from which data were collected in the spring (3,473) comprised about one-fourth of the total survey of housekeeping households for the year; in 1965-66, spring accounted for about one-half (6,174).

--Separate data on the quantity of donated food received and on the percentage of households participating in the Food Distribution Program were not obtained in 1977-78, since food distribution to families had been almost completely discontinued. This information was requested and tabulated in 1965-66.

--In 1977-78, data on seasonings purchased during the week were collected but not tabulated. In 1965-66, those data were both collected and tabulated.

--Income data for 1977-78 included the income of all household members age 14 and older (except roomers, boarders, and employees). In 1965-66, income data included only all related persons living in the household whom the respondent considered as part of the family's financial matters.

--In 1977-78, specific income data were collected. In 1965-66, respondents indicated which 1 of 14 income classes corresponded most closely to their family's income after taxes.

Schedule Modification

The 1977-78 schedule followed essentially the same format as the schedule used in 1965-66. Respondents, however, were asked more detailed questions on the social and economic characteristics of the household in 1977-78. They also were asked a few additional questions related to food consumption. Information about the following additional factors was collected in 1977-78:

--Education and employment of the male head of the household and occupation of both the male and female household heads.

--Amount of the last month's income from specified sources for each household member age 14 and older (except roomers, boarders, and employees) and the amount of last year's income both before and after taxes.

Changes in Groupings of Food Items in 1977-78

--Miscellaneous sweets (fruit ices, gelatin, icing mixes, pudding, and pudding mixes) are grouped with sugars and sweets. They were with mixtures in 1965-66.

--Soups, sauces, and gravies are now considered a separate food group. They were with mixtures in 1965-66.

--Commercially canned diet vegetables and fruits are shown separately. They were included with the specific commercially canned item in 1965-66.

--Mixed-grain cold cereals are shown separately. They were included with the grain listed on the label as the first ingredient in 1965-66.

--Batters and doughs are shown separately. They were included with the ready-to-eat baked items in 1965-66.

--Sugar substitutes (quantity used) are grouped with sugars and sweets. Purchases of sugar substitutes during the week were with seasonings in 1965-66.

--Iced tea mixes, with and without sugar, are grouped with tea. They were with ades and punches in 1965-66.

--All kinds of ground beef are grouped together. Specified cuts of beef that were used ground were with the specified cut in 1965-66.

--Mixtures are categorized by the way in which they were processed--ready-to-eat, canned, frozen, or dried. They were designated by the predominant food in the mixture in 1965-66--mostly meat, mostly grain, mostly vegetable, mostly fruit, mostly milk products.

Data Tabulation

--The 1977-78 data are classified by the 1976 or 1977 income before taxes. The 1965-66 data were classified by the 1964 or 1965 money income after taxes.

--The 1977-78 urbanization categories are central city, suburban, and nonmetropolitan. Definitions are based on the size of the place in which the residence was located and for metropolitan households, the location within a standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA). In 1965-66, urbanization categories used for tabulating data were urban, rural nonfarm, and rural farm. Definitions were based on the size of place in which the dwelling was located and the presence of a farm operator for rural households.

To help those who wish to make comparisons between the two surveys, some comparable data for the Northeast are listed below:

SAMPLE ANALYSIS

Description of the Sample

Information for the Nationwide Food Consumption Survey 1977-78 was collected from 14,930 households of 1 or more members. The households were from a statistically selected sample of all private households in the 48 conterminous States, stratified by region, urbanization, and geographic or demographic similarities. Excluded from these reports are about 6 percent, or 900 households that were not housekeeping--no member ate 10 or more meals from the household food supply during the 7 days preceding the interview.

Design

This survey was designed as a self-weighting, multistage, stratified area sample of 15,000 households in the conterminous States. During each quarter, 3,750 households were to be sampled by use of an interpenetrating design (spring quarter was implemented in April, May, and June 1977; summer in July, August, and September; fall in October, November, and December; and winter in January, February, and March 1978). The sampling frame was organized by use of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

Stratification

The 48 conterminous States were divided into 114 strata on the basis of 3 levels of stratifications--geographic division, urbanization or zone, and demographic or other geographic similarities. Each of the nine Census geographic divisions that comprise the four Census regions (see tabulation) was divided into the three Census zones defined below:

Zone I (Central city)--the area comprised of the central city or cities (a city named in the metropolitan area title) in standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA);

Zone II (Suburban)--the area in SMSA's outside Zone I;

Zone III (Nonmetropolitan)--any area not included in Zones I and II.

Then, the two levels of division and zone were grouped at the third level based on cities or other political entities, economic trading areas, geographic units, and/or by size. This procedure resulted in 114 homogeneous strata of approximately 600,000 households each. The distribution of these strata by Census geographic divisions and zones is shown below:

| Census region and division | Number of strata | | | |
| | Central city Zone I | Suburban Zone II | Nonmetropolitan Zone III | Division |

| Mountain.......... | 2 | 1 | 2 | 5 |
| Pacific........... | 6 | 7 | 2 | 15 |
| Total............ | 38 | 39 | 37 | 114 |

Primary Sampling Units

Every stratum was divided into one or more primary sampling units (PSU's). Each PSU was formed from cities, parts of cities, or from counties, and contained at least 10,000 housing units. Twelve strata were represented by only one PSU each, and these were picked with certainty.[1] From the other 102 strata, PSU's were drawn with probabilities proportional to size.

Selection of Area Segments within PSU's

Each PSU drawn was divided into small clusters of housing units called "area segments." The segments were designed, based on the 1970 Census, to contain 100 or more housing units and usually consisted of 1 or more city blocks in urban areas and part of a Census Enumeration District elsewhere. From the PSU's, 2,550 segments were drawn; the number of segments in a PSU was proportional to the size of the stratum in which the PSU was located. The probability that an individual segment would be drawn from a PSU was proportional to the ratio of the number of housing units in the segment to the total number of units in the PSU.

Prelisting of Area Segments

All 2,550 area segments were prelisted to determine the number of occupied housing units. Then, the national increase in the number of housing units from 1970 to 1977 was estimated. This information, together with estimates of occupancy and completion rates, permitted calculation of sampling ratios for the area segments that would yield a total of 3,750 households per quarter.

Selection of Sample Housing Units

For the first two quarters, an average sampling ratio of 2.3 households per segment was used. The housing units were ordered within their respective segments. For each quarter, a sample was systematically selected from each segment, without replacement, after a random start. By the end of the second quarter, the estimated completion rate had been adjusted, and an average sampling ratio of 2.86 households per segment was used for the last two quarters. With the above adjustments, the target of responses from 15,000 households was closely approximated during the year-long survey period.

Weights

Although this survey was designed to be self-weighting, it was determined after the survey ended that the completion rates for the various PSU's differed at a statistically significant level. Therefore, weighting factors were applied to data from completed schedules. The weights were calculated for each quarter for every PSU. The weights were designed to be proportional to the ratio of the expected number of completed schedules in a PSU to the collected number of completed schedules in a PSU; weights were scaled so that there would be 3,740 completed schedules per quarter. After weighting was completed, a few household schedules had to be discarded because of invalid or incomplete data. The following tabulation gives the weighted and unweighted household counts by season, including nonhousekeeping households:

MEAN VALUES AND STANDARD ERRORS OF FOOD GROUPS AND SELECTED ITEMS

The average (mean) values in this report are based on data for households from the sample and hence may differ somewhat from the figures that would have been obtained if data had been taken from all U.S. households by use of the same questionnaire, interviewer, and coder. Sample surveys are subject to two types of errors--nonsampling and sampling.

Nonsampling errors can be attributed to many sources: Inability to obtain information about all cases; definitional difficulties; differences in interpretation of the question; inability or unwillingness of the respondents to provide correct information; errors in recording or coding the data; and other errors of collection, response, processing, coverage, and estimation of missing information. Because of the number of possible sources of error, measurement of the total nonsampling error is very difficult.

Although the respondents in this survey were asked to give the prices of the food items that were originally bought, the prices for those items reported as home-produced and as gift or pay were not asked. Instead, the money value of these food items received without direct expense by a household was based on the average (mean) price per pound paid for comparable food by surveyed households in the same region. Imputations of this sort may have contributed further to nonsampling error.

Sampling errors occur by chance because a sample rather than the entire population was surveyed. The standard error estimates the precision with which a mean value from a sample approximates the difference between the sample data and the data that would have been obtained from the entire population. Furthermore, the standard error partially reflects the variation in the estimates from some nonsampling errors, but it does not measure per se, any systematic biases in the data. In effect, standard error measures sampling and random nonsampling errors. The sample estimates and their estimated errors enable one to construct confidence intervals or ranges that would include the average result of all possible samples with a known probability. The procedure, as illustrated below, provides a method to construct interval estimates so that a known proportion of the intervals would contain the average of all possible samples. For example, if all possible samples were selected, each of these was surveyed under essentially the same general conditions, and an estimate and its estimated standard error were calculated from each sample, then:

2. Approximately 90 percent of the intervals from 1.6 standard errors below the estimate to 1.6 standard errors above the estimate would include the average result of all possible samples.

3. Approximately 95 percent of the intervals from 2 standard errors below the estimate to 2 standard errors above the estimate would include the average result of all possible samples.

The average result of all possible samples either is or is not contained in any particular computed interval. For a particular sample, however, the average result of all possible samples is included, with specific confidence, in the constructed interval. For example, the mean money value per household in the Northeast for the meat group was $13.14 during the spring and its corresponding standard error was $0.58. This means that the 68-percent confidence interval around $13.14 is from $12.56 to $13.72. It can, therefore, be asserted at a 68-percent level of confidence that the sample mean of $13.14 will differ by less than plus or minus $0.58 from the mean from a complete population. At a 95-percent level of confidence, it will differ by less than plus or minus $1.16.

DEFINITIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

All Urbanizations

Bought Food - See "Source of Food."

Calcium Equivalent

The quantity of whole fluid milk to which the various dairy products (excluding butter) and nondairy products containing milk derivatives are equivalent in calcium content. The chief source of data on the calcium content of the various dairy products was "Composition of Foods: Dairy and Egg Products; Raw, Processed, Prepared," U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agriculture Handbook No. 8-1, November 1976.

Central City - See "Urbanization."

Eggs: Fresh Equivalent

The quantity of fresh eggs plus frozen, dried, or liquid eggs without shell (whether the whole egg, whites, or yolks only), and of cooked eggs or substitutes converted to the weight of equivalent eggs in shell. The source of most factors was "Conversion Factors and Weights and Measures for Agricultural Commodities and Their Products," U.S. Department of Agriculture, Statistical Bulletin No. 362, June 1965.

Food at Home

Food and beverages (alcoholic and nonalcoholic) from the household food supplies "used" during the 7 days before the date of the survey interview, whether bought or received without direct expense. This included food and beverages eaten at home, carried from the home in packed meals, thrown away, or fed to pets. Food fed to animals raised for commercial purposes and commercial "pet" food were omitted. Food that was obtained with cash, credit, or food stamps, and food that was home-produced, received as a gift or payment for goods and services, or received through Federal assistance programs or from welfare agencies was included.

Any food from the respondent's household that was given away for use outside the home, such as food sent to friends and relatives, gifts of food donated to church suppers, and food given to household help to take home, was not considered as food used by the household.

Food used at home was classified as fresh, commercially canned or frozen, home-canned or -frozen, already cooked, and dried. Generally, food used at home was reported in the form brought into the kitchen.

Homemade mixtures used during the week were reported either as ingredients if prepared during the week or as the product, if prepared before the survey week. For example, a homemade cake prepared any time within the survey week was included with quantities of flour, eggs, sugar, fat, and milk. But a homemade mixture used during, but prepared before, the survey week was recorded in the name of the product in the same way as a commercially prepared mixture was recorded. To illustrate, a cake that was prepared at home on any day before the survey week, or a bakery cake that was brought from the store into the kitchen, was entered on the schedule as a ready-to-eat cake.

If home-canned or home-frozen vegetables and fruit and home-preserved jelly, jam, pickles, or relish were processed before the survey week, they were also recorded in the same way as commercially prepared mixtures. However, when the canned, frozen, or preserved food was made at home during the 7-day period, only the ingredients of the portion used during that period were recorded.

Regardless of the time of preparation, homemade butter, cheese, cream, and buttermilk were always reported as the products rather than as ingredients.

Food at Home Not Bought

Food used at home that was home-produced or received as a gift or instead of pay. See "Source of Food."

Food Away From Home

Any food and beverages (alcoholic and nonalcoholic) in meals and snacks purchased by the household for themselves and their guests away from home during the week. The expense for such food and beverages included sales tax and tips. Food eaten by the household in other homes or elsewhere as guests or employees for which no household expense was involved was not included in expense for food away from home. See "Food Away From Home Not Bought."

Food Away From Home Not Bought

The number of meals with no expense to the household, that is, meals eaten by household members in other homes or elsewhere as guests or employees.

Home-Produced Food - See "Source of Food."

Household

A household consists of all the persons who occupy a house, an apartment, or other group of rooms, or a room that constitutes a housing unit. The survey does not cover group quarters, such as rooming houses, military barracks, and institutions.

Housekeeping Households

Those households with at least 1 person having 10 or more meals from the household food supply during 7 days before the interview. Data for nonhousekeeping households were collected but are not presented here.

Household Size

The total number of meals served to all persons in the household from home food supplies divided by 21 (based on 3 meals a day for 7 days for 1 person) to obtain the household size in equivalent persons. When meals reported eaten at home and away from home did not add to 21 meals for each person, the skipped meals were distributed as bought, free, and from household food supplies in the same proportion as the reported meals. The count of equivalent persons was not reduced in those households where members omitted meals nor was it increased for refreshments between meals. However, the meals served to guests, boarders, and employees were included.

Lunches carried from home, but supplemented by other food purchased, received as gift, or received instead of pay, were counted as one-half meal at home and one-half meal from one of the other sources; lunches supplemented only by beverages were counted as full meals at home.

Refreshments served to guests were also counted in the total meals from household food supplies, but were not given the same value as a full meal. Servings of a single food or two (for example, a glass of milk or a cup of coffee and a doughnut) were considered light refreshments and counted as one-fourth meal for each guest. More than two refreshment items served at one time, such as ice cream, cake, and coffee, were counted as one-half meal for each guest. Any refreshments served to persons who were part of the household were not counted unless they substituted for a regular meal.

Money Income Before Taxes

Respondent's estimate of the household's 1976 money income from all sources before the deduction of State and Federal income taxes. Income was counted for all persons living in the household except for roomers, boarders, and employees whether or not they ate at home during the week.

Money Value of Food Used at Home

Expenditures for bought food and money value of home-produced food and food received free of cost that was used during the survey week. Expenditures for bought food were based on prices reported as paid regardless of the time of purchase. Sales tax was excluded. Bought food with unreported prices, food produced at home, and food received as a gift or instead of pay were valued at the average price per pound paid for comparable food by survey households in the same region and season.

Nonmetropolitan - See "Urbanization."

Not Classified by Income

Households that were not household units for the previous year and households in which respondents were either unable or unwilling to give information about income.

Person

One equivalent person equals 21 meals at home in a week. Average quantities and money value of food used per person by groups of households are per 21-meal-at-home-equivalent person. See "Household Size."

Region

Those areas of the 48 conterminous States as defined by the U.S. Department of Commerce for the 1970 Census of Population. The four Census regions and their States are:

North Central--Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin;

Source of Food

Classification of food used as bought, home-produced, or received as gift or instead of pay.

Bought--Food received for cash, on credit, or with Federal food coupons such as food stamps and WIC vouchers.

Home-produced--Food raised for home use and food obtained by hunting, fishing, and gathering from the wild.

Received as gift or pay--Food received as gift from persons outside the household or as payment for services rendered.

Spring - The months of April, May, and June.

Suburban - See "Urbanization."

Survey Week

The continuous 7-day period before the survey interview during which the reported food was used. An interview that occurred on Monday morning after breakfast, for example, covered the period from Monday morning a week earlier after breakfast to the interview time.

Urbanization

Distinction of households in central city, suburban, and nonmetropolitan was based on the standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA) as defined by the U.S. Department of Commerce in the 1970 Census of Population.

Central city--Population of 50,000 or more and main or core city within SMSA.

Suburban--Generally within the boundaries of SMSA but not within legal limits of central city SMSA.
